We are on lesson 8. There are several mistakes on each lesson as to what is on the students' paper and what is on mine (what I am to read). That part has been a pain. Nothing that a good editing can't fix. It is, in my opinion, TOO repetitive; however, the students are finally getting the concept of the STATE Of BEING verbs which has always been difficult for me to get them to understand. I have also been supplementing the lessons with related practice.
